Your collective health insurance by Aevitae

Dear partner,

The healthcare season is approaching, and soon everyone will once again have to consider the question: which health insurance best suits me and my (family) situation?

Your employees have an extra attractive option with the collective health insurance arranged by you. And that's good news for both your employees and your company, because a collective health insurance plan from Aevitae offers many benefits.

In this presentation, you will find a brief overview of the campaign and the available resources, with which we hope to convince as many colleagues as possible to take out the great collective health insurance you've arranged for them.

Kind regards,

Aevitae
